

MOUNTAIN FEELING

2024

A retreat for the mind with striking Alpine accents

Characterised by their cosy simplicity and nostalgic charm, the Dolomitenhof and the Landhaus Alte Post are the perfect places to relax and unwind. Here in the wonderfully secluded Fiscalina Valley, the surroundings take centre stage. Gaze out over the mountain landscape of the Sesto Dolomites, and discover rugged rock faces, blossoming meadows, fragrant forests and authentic Alpine pastures. Enjoy spending time in your very own haven in the midst of this stunning setting; choose from beautifully decorated rooms furnished with fragrant Swiss pine or cosy rooms with historic charm. The architecture and furnishings reflect the close ties with the natural surroundings and local handicrafts. Without alpine kitsch, but instead an eye for the beauty of simplicity.

In harmony with nature

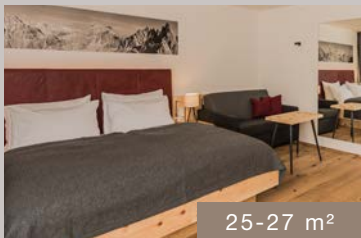

◆ South Tyrol as a region is not only steeped in tradition, but it's also known for its focus on sustainability. Our hotel carefully blends the two by having meat-free Fridays, a tradition that many families in this country have observed for years. We're now following in their footsteps in an attempt to help reduce the high levels of meat consumption worldwide. Because the environment really matters to us.

- ◆ Zero kilometres food: meat, vegetables, cereals, milk products and cheese are all sourced from local farmers – wild herbs, mushrooms and berries come from our own garden and the surrounding forests, fresh in summer and carefully preserved for winter. Only things that do not grow here are purchased in our wider environment.
- ◆ Our farm and pasture land are ecologically certified.
- ◆ Green choice: our guests can play an active part in protecting the environment by foregoing cleaning of their rooms on some days. In return, for every “green” day, we will treat them to a voucher worth € 5, which can be used to pay for anything consumed in the hotel.
- ◆ For the good of our environment we avoid plastic wherever possible and use natural and high quality alternatives. For example, our cleaning products and detergents for the hotel linen are biodegradable.
- ◆ The local mountains set the tone in our SPA: for our massages and treatments we use natural cosmetics that are produced in South Tyrol.
- ◆ The toiletries in your bathroom also meet our ecological standards and are made in South Tyrol using natural raw materials.
- ◆ The in-house, environmentally-friendly wood-chip heating system provides pleasant warmth throughout the hotel and a comfortable water temperature in the pool – with a green conscience.
- ◆ We support green mobility and therefore have also installed a charging station for electric vehicles at the hotel.
- ◆ With sustainability as our mission, we have set ourselves an ambitious target that we are tackling step by step – in the tried and tested manner of mountaineers. And so every season we are implementing new measures to protect the environment. We will be pleased to tell you more!

Worry-free dining

The wonder of simplicity.

A poor man's cuisine, rich in the flavours of the nature that surrounds us. Born of pure necessity and the traditions that grew out of it. The secret of our alpine-mediterranean cuisine lies in the use of local and seasonal products: meat from local herds of ancient breeds and typical specialities from our region. Potatoes, beetroot, turnips, cabbage and cereals. Products from our farmers, fresh and carefully prepared. Complemented with valuable, rediscovered ingredients, herbs and berries from our garden, the meadow or the forest – fresh in summer and preserved for the winter using traditional methods. Taste the aromas of the Dolomites!

- ◆ Alpine-mediterranean 4-course dinner with salads, antipasti and soups from the buffet
- ◆ South Tyrolean delicacies, varied starters and indulgent desserts
- ◆ Once a week aperitif reception with live music
- ◆ Visit our new Bistro Bergsteiger and enjoy local delicacies in the special atmosphere of the award-winning architecture by architect Ulla Hell – Plasma Studio

A photograph of two women sitting at a black outdoor table in a cafe. They are surrounded by flowers and have a view of a mountain range. The table has coffee, bread, and a small potted plant. The background shows a green field, a wooden fence, and a forest of evergreen trees under a cloudy sky.

THE TASTE OF THE DOLOMITES

◆ When you're on holiday, you should never have to go without. We can provide gluten-free bread, soya milk and lactose-free yoghurt for breakfast upon request, but we are unfortunately unable to offer separate gluten-free menus or menus for other specific dietary requirements. However, if there is something that you are not able to eat, we will make every effort to find you a suitable alternative.

Call in at Sepp's

The gateway to the Sesto Dolomites

When it comes to the Bistro Bergsteiger, or in English, Mountain Climber, the name tells you everything you need to know. This new gastronomic addition in the Fiscalina Valley is exactly what it sounds like: a meeting place for fans of the mountains and active types, for nature lovers and those looking for peace and quiet. Down-to-earth and uncomplicated, just the way mountain people are. People with a hunger to satisfy come together here. As do people who are seeking inspiration from our great-grandfather, mountaineering legend Sepp Innerkofler. He can be found leaning in relaxed fashion up against the bar. With a direct view of the line-up of summits in the Sesto Dolomites and of a few of his heroic first ascents.

And what do we serve? Sepp's favourite dishes, of course - but that's not all! Bistro meals inspired by South Tyrolean cuisine prepared from top quality honest, seasonal and local produce. On an afternoon you could try a fortifying mountain-climber's "marende" snack platter, a wheat beer after a successful trip, or coffee and cakes with views of the summits. And always the very best made from the simplest ingredients.

BISTRO BERGSTEIGER

Our Bistro Bergsteiger is a place where you can stop and linger for a while.

To marvel at the mountains and hammer out plans for more trips.
For mountaineers and leisure hikers, mountain bikers and e-bikers, cross-country skiers and walkers. Everyone's welcome at the Bergsteiger!
