

MOUNTAIN FEELING

2022

A retreat for the mind with striking Alpine accents

Characterised by their cosy simplicity and nostalgic charm, the Dolomitenhof and the Landhaus Alte Post are the perfect places to relax and unwind. Here in the wonderfully secluded Fiscalina Valley, the surroundings take centre stage. Gaze out over the mountain landscape of the Sesto Dolomites, and discover rugged rock faces, blossoming meadows, fragrant forests and authentic Alpine pastures. Enjoy spending time in your very own haven in the midst of this stunning setting; choose from beautifully decorated rooms furnished with fragrant Swiss pine or cosy rooms with historic charm. The breathtaking views will soon have a special place in your heart.

& ALTE POST

Tradition
meets sustainability

- ◆ South Tyrol as a region is not only steeped in tradition, but it's also known for its focus on sustainability. Our hotel carefully blends the two by having meat-free Fridays, a tradition that many families in this country have observed for years. We're now following in their footsteps in an attempt to help reduce the high levels of meat consumption worldwide. Because the environment really matters to us.
- ◆ Zero kilometres on the plate: meat, vegetables, cereals, dairy products and cheese are all sourced from local farmers, whilst wild herbs, mushrooms and berries come from our own garden and the surrounding forests. Only things that do not grow here are purchased in our wider environment.
- ◆ Our farm and pasture land are ecologically certified.
- ◆ Green choice: our guests can play an active part in protecting the environment by foregoing cleaning of their rooms on some days. In return, for every "green" day, we will treat them to a voucher worth € 5, which can be used to pay for anything consumed in the hotel.
- ◆ For the good of our environment we avoid plastic wherever possible and use natural and high quality alternatives. For example, our cleaning products and detergents for the hotel linen are biodegradable.
- ◆ The local mountains set the tone in our SPA: for our massages and treatments we use natural cosmetics that are produced in South Tyrol.
- ◆ The toiletries in your bathroom also meet our ecological standards and are made in South Tyrol using natural raw materials.
- ◆ The in-house, environmentally-friendly wood-chip heating system provides pleasant warmth throughout the hotel and a comfortable water temperature in the pool – with a green conscience.
- ◆ We support green mobility and therefore have also installed a charging station for electric vehicles at the hotel.
- ◆ With sustainability as our mission, we have set ourselves an ambitious target that we are tackling step by step – in the tried and tested manner of mountaineers. And so every season we are implementing new measures to protect the environment. We will be pleased to tell you more!

ALTE POST

Fresh mountain air and a breath of nostalgia

The Alte Post may be old, but it's far from being old-fashioned. This historic gem of traditional Alpine architecture was built as a coaching inn back in 1907, at a time when wealthy guests still arrived by stagecoach, stayed for the summer and climbed the surrounding mountains with great-grandfather Sepp. The Alte Post was renovated with love and care only a few years ago, and was named a Historic Guest House by an expert jury in 2009.

Over the years, the listed country guest house has certainly retained its historic charm. It boasts elaborate original furniture – some of which dates back centuries – that has been lovingly restored and a traditionally designed, original wood-panelled parlour room from the year 1905, where guests can enjoy their breakfast in style. These charming features give the Alte Post a uniquely authentic feel that has even won the hearts of esteemed guests such as the former German Chancellor Angela Merkel. Bathrooms with sleek, linear designs in neutral tones and the occasional piece of modern furniture provide an exciting contrast to the historic walls.

Guests can look forward to unwinding in cosy, country-style rooms with one-of-a-kind designs, and are sure to sleep soundly in our comfortable beds with the finest linen. For the ultimate relaxation, our guests can also take advantage of the connecting passageway to the Badehaus Bergsteiger bathhouse. Meanwhile, the Dolomitenhof's half-board dining option offers a range of mouth-watering dishes to tickle everyone's taste buds.

Experience a touch of tradition with all of the luxuries of a 4-star hotel.

21-23 m<sup>2</sup>

Worry-free dining

The wonder of simplicity.

A poor man's cuisine, rich in the flavours of the nature that surrounds us. Born of pure necessity and the traditions that grew out of it. The secret of our alpine-mediterranean cuisine lies in the use of local and seasonal products: meat from local herds of ancient breeds and typical specialities from our region. Potatoes, beetroot, turnips, cabbage and cereals. Products from our farmers, fresh and carefully prepared. Complemented with valuable, rediscovered ingredients, herbs and berries from our garden, the meadow or the forest – fresh in summer and preserved for the winter using traditional methods. Taste the aromas of the Dolomites!

- ◆ Alpine-mediterranean 4-course dinner with salads and antipasti from the buffet
- ◆ South Tyrolean delicacies, varied starters and indulgent desserts
- ◆ Once a week aperitif reception with live music
- ◆ Visit our new Bistro Bergsteiger and enjoy local delicacies in the special atmosphere of the award-winning architecture by architect Ulla Hell – Plasma Studio

A photograph of a wooden table outdoors, likely at a restaurant or cafe. On the table, there is a wine glass filled with red wine, a tall glass of beer with a thick white head of foam, and a large wooden platter of food. The food includes a salad with lettuce, tomatoes, and cucumbers, a hard-boiled egg, a slice of bread, and some meat. A person's hand is visible holding the wine glass, and another person's hand is visible holding the beer glass. The background is a blurred green landscape.

THE TASTE OF THE DOLOMITES

◆ When you're on holiday, you should never have to go without. We can provide gluten-free bread, soya milk and lactose-free yoghurt for breakfast upon request, but we are unfortunately unable to offer separate gluten-free menus or menus for other specific dietary requirements. However, if there is something that you are not able to eat, we will make every effort to find you a suitable alternative.
